A NEW PARTY.

Senator Cameron Wishes to Head a Free Silver Ticket in 1896.

A special to the Denver News from Washington, D. C., dated Sep, 8th, says: The talk about the presidential aspirations of Senator Don Cameron of Pensylvania upon a free silver platform, which was current in political circles several weeks ago, is reviving and assuming renewed significance. For some time it has been believed that Senator Cameron really cherishes the ambition to head a new faction in a presidential race and had fixed upon the advocates of the free coinage of silver to form his party.

A new light appears to now be breaking upon the situation. Events are now unfolding and disclosing to a slight degree some aspects of it not before visible.

Agencies which, it is claimed, are three dollars and some even more. to bring about the amalgamation of the silver forces into a party which Senator Cameron is to head are now said to be at work.

A close friend of Senator John P. Jones of Nevada authoritavely stated today that Senator Jones is a backer of Mr. Cameron's presidential boom. This statement opens up a wide range of political probabilities and conjectures.

Commenting on the Cameron free silver presidential movement, the Evening Star says:

"Politicians are agreed that the Silver party in the senate is soon to become a strong factor. There are indications that reinforcements are ranks of the Republicans.

"Dubois of Idaho is hinting about Wolcott are held to Republicans by a they had never seen such gold anyhair and are believed to be ready for where in their lives. Zirn had some a movement in the direction of a Silver party. Then there are the comgetting back any sum from ten cents ing elections, which will fill the vacancies in the senate existing in the Northwestern states. Every one concedes that the campaign in those states is to be conducted upon a silver platform. If all these plans toward the creation of a Silver party are successful it can readily be seen over twenty-five years, has saved what a power it will be in the Senate."

ZIRN THINKS HE HAS FOUND THE LEDGE AT LAST.

Ore Worth $80,000 a Ton Made Carson a Scene of Excitement.

Yesterday Carson City was thrown iuto a state of excitement which reminded one of olden days. William Zirn the original discoverer of gold at Pine Nut came in bringing a few hundred pounds of gold rock that was a sight to behold.

The rock was quartz mixed with feldspar and black manganese. Gold stuck out of the rock and ran through it in all directions. It would have been easy for a man with a pair of pincers to have pulled out hundreds of dollars worth of gold. Some of the gold stuck out half an inch and pieces in sight were worth two or

Break the rock where you would and the free gold helped to hold it together, He also brought in about two thousand dollars worth of free 7:30. A full attendance is desiredgold which he took out last Satur-

Zirn took the gold to Schultz's butcher shop and placed it on exhibition. Schultz is Zirn's partner, The annoyance of so many people crowding in became so great that finally it was taken away in order to enable Schultz to find time to sell steaks.

Ziru finally removed the specimens to his room and was unable to go there without a crowd following him. Some of the gold he took to the already at hand coming from the Mint and some was placed on exhibition at the Arlington. Everybody was rushing to see the specimens and following Jones' lead. Teller and old miners who saw them agreed that a candidate for the office of pieces that weighed an ounce.

Most of those who saw them had very little to say except to break out in vollies of profamity which, while it sounded exceedingly blasphemous to most people, was merely a miner,s method of expressing approval of the size and richness of the strike.

ZIRN'S IDEA OF IT. Mr. Zirn said as he showed the specimens to the APPEAL man: the main ledge. All the stuff we a candidate for the office of have found before has been float off the main ledge. This rock I took out about 75 feet from where I made in now is well defined. The shaft is the vote of the Silver Primaries. down 65 feet and the ledge is five feet wide. I can trace it nearly two hundred feet. The hanging wall is a greenish stone like there is on the Comstock and the foot wall is porphyry. You see this rock is all free milling ore. It assays about $80,-000 a ton. Talk about rock; this isn't nearly as rich as some I will bring here in a few days. Its richness increases with the depth and I Of Carson City announces himself am positive that we have found the a candidate for the office of mother ledge at last.'

Several parties started for Pine Nut yesterday to take up claims and resume work on claims they had abandoned last year. All the country about Pine Nut is pretty well located already and there is very little ground left uncovered.

Mrs. Hartley resumed the witness stand. She said: After the occurences of February 26th she went to San Francisco and had an interview of fifteen minutes with Senstor Foley in her studio. Before going she told him if he mentioned what had happened she would defend herself. She went to San Francisco and placed pictures in the Midwinter Fair: left there March 31 went to Wadsworth; there suspicioned her condition; returning to Reno she sought an interview with deceased.

April 20 she west to San Francisco. Before going there Form advised her to go and see a cert ... doctor. She refused to see him, but nant. Deceased visited her at the the wrong doctor and mai-t-l on ver her. The card of O'Donnell's was placed in evidence. She went later and saw Foley and told him she had been to O'Donnell, who advised having the child then as cheaper and better. She told Foley she shud dered at the very thought and could not consent. She had conscientous scruples and wished to see her friends and be guided by their advice. She returned to Reno April 26th. Foley insisted on her going back for an operation. She refused and told him he must acknowledge the paternity of her child and put it in writing. He said he would, but there must be no witness. Afterwards he said he had placed the paper in the bank. He said he had to go to Salt Lake, where he would make arrangements for me. Noon
